About This Game

Planets under Attack offers a surprising depth of gameplay, while its intuitive controls allow even casual gamers to pick it up and feel comfortable immediately. In addition to the addicting gameplay, Planets under Attack is an obvious labor of love. An exciting and memorable cast of characters exist perfectly in this artistically beautiful world. From the ships to the planets, everything has an essence of its own, with a memorable soundtrack and comical sound effects breathing life into the visuals

The goal of this challenging space adventure is to conquer a galaxy of planets, while undertaking a multitude of special challenges. Take control of your mighty space armada, and wreak havoc across the cosmos, but choose your targets wisely! Conquered planets will net you income to expand your forces, but you must carefully weigh the pros and cons of attacking each planet, as timing and available resources are critical to victory. Above all else, you must keep a cool head. Enemies race to capture your territory as you hone in on theirs and multiple battles will rage on all fronts. You must make tactical decisions at every turn, from scouting your enemies and deploying units, to shoring up your planets' defenses and knowing when to attack and when to defend. Strategic multi-tasking and a keen military mind will lead directly to unrivaled glory...while careless play will reduce your army to space dust.

The Campaign mode tests your military might with 32 thrilling levels, each with varied planets, tasks and game modes. Defend a planet until reinforcements arrive, fly into uncharted space, conquer planets and set up defenses before rivals attack - the list goes on and on, as there is no shortage of objectives in your struggle for interstellar dominance. Start out as a novice and learn the ropes, or ramp up the challenge with three levels of difficulty. The longer you play the more experience you'll obtain, allowing you to unlock new technologies, changing the way you play and ensuring you'll keep coming back for more!

Online

In Online mode, don't just choose your own path, make the cosmos your own personal battleground! You design the fight, from choosing the amount of players, to selecting your maps. Simply pick a game mode, select your settings, grab some friends, and cut loose.

First you definitely should buy the twin pack, they are giving you a discount for more contents.

Ok, this route, it is not actually the one for challenging or precision driving, it's all about scenery. My suggestion is don't stick inside the cab, cause all the trains don't have too much in-cab stuff for you to mess up with. Instead the outside looking, the liveries, those are the things DTG really spend efforts with. The reflection on the HST is just superb for instance.

The route itself is in very high details, along with the tunnels, stations and tracks. But again, this route isn't electrified with overhead lines or third rail as it is in real life, so not too much stuff you can add later on.

The route also includes other small stations in Cardiff which you can enjoy during a scenario with the 143, pretty neat little things they added.

Overall, use a controller instead of keyboard on this, it's much better in terms of capturing nice screenshots and explore the map. They are some known issues with this unfortunately, like the headlights automatically switches off once you are in passenger view in the 175, I think they maybe fix those things in the future, hopefully.

At last, I will recommend this route if you enjoy those lovely sceneries, this is absolutely the one. But if you are looking for realistic driving, perhaps you will want to wait for a discount or some more related add-ons for the route.. The simplicity of this game is it's greatest part. Point and shoot! I've been able to show off my Vive to countless people who are immediately enthralled with this game. The art style also means that most people won't get scared by it, which is great for me and the safety of my Vive. I highly recommend this game!. I paid like ten cents for this game, and I overpaid. I was almost halfway towards saving the funds for buying myself some delicious ramen noodles, but instead all I got was this game and major depression.. Totally worth buying! If you're on the fence, jump over, you won't regret it.. While I like this game, there was a point where my choice didn't seem to matter. In chapter 6 I chose to be an ambassador, yet the next page, the start of chapter 7, skipped straight into "The beginning of the war..." as if I'd said to just go to war. I'm not sure if that's intentional or a mistake in the game, but I recommend this game regardless.. its a fun little game when you play for the 1st time but its getting boring really fast because the career mode is too short and the online servers are always empty. Also paying 50$ is way too much for what you get in this game. at 14km/h u just turn around and around...wtf gravel this is a fcking death game with 0 players. For the most part , it beats FRAPS and Bandicam in every single way. I am able to hook up a webcam and automatically have an overlay, set a stopwatch, and more! However what this software doesn't do is that it doesn't have an area recorder, and won't work with some indie games (based on some .exe files). So, if you plan on doing a lot of internet gameplay (i.e. Happy Wheels), this is not for you. if you wanna do some older .exe files and older games, I'm sorry, but the issue is the same and you should go with Bandicam. I do recommend this software for anyone who wishes to record more recent games and desire small files with overlays that make editing very efficient.. How do you even play the mini games? 0.o

the game will be great if you could actually play any of the minigames... once loaded in the sign board just keeps saying "Loading inventory"... so cant give a good review for now :(One of the track of the soundtrack has a theremin.

Case closed.. I love this game! A total classic, and it never gets old!

It's a fast paced Gauntlet style game.. Sentimental, funny, sometimes totally stupid. I love it.. Reminds me me of the awesome C64 game.. Didnt get more than 2 mins into game and I get a bug. As I drop into water to grab 1st cog the hero falls through map not dying but you can not see the hero so you have no choice but to exit. Terrible art.

Shallow story.

Counter-intuitive controls.

Insults player.

Don't bother.. great price very relaxing and looks amazing. splendido simulatore di guida.....emozioni uniche!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!. Uniball has an incredibly steep learning curve, which can scare away some new players quickly. If you push through and really nail down the controls, it's a very fun game. Watching games with the highest-level players is very entertaining, and motivates you to get better. The better you get, the more fun it is. While experienced players are usually more than willing to play in games with new players and help out/provide tips, don't expect to actually hang with them until you put in a lot of hours mastering the mechanics.. i love this game its so much fun!
